

Labour of love

You just can't imagine the trials and tribulations of starting a small organic baby food company! The chaos my team went through sourcing the finest organic products... almost as painful as childbirth. Well, LOL, maybe not.

Yet we were able to do it... for moms and the health of our kids. In the end, I know you'll find it worth our efforts. 😊

Follow your intuition... and plan to give your new baby the purest start.

Babies on-the-go

Single Serve Pouches

Our organic cereals are conveniently available in single-serve six-packs. This means that as busy mom and dads run out the door, they can just toss a pouch in their diaper bags. No mess. No worries!

Organic Juices

Our organic juices are great. We even have an Organic Apple Apricot flavour that helps if your little guy is constipated. Try our Organic Apple and Organic Apple Mango juice too.

Organic Teething Biscuits

They're designed to fit small hands and small mouths – with no salt, colours or preservatives added. Plus, it's a great snack to help relieve the discomfort of baby's tender gums.

Organic Fruit Friends

You'll love these—and again, they are the only organic ones on the market. They are freeze-dried 100% real organic "baby bite size" fruit snacks. They are for babies 12 months plus. And trust me... you'll be eating them too!

purity makes sense

I searched Canada... but could not find a complete line of pure organic foods for my new baby. So, I created my own.
